The J. DeWeese Carter Center is one of seven treatment programs operated by the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services (DJS). This facility is the only state-wide treatment facility for girls. The center, located in Kent County, serves up to 40 girls from across the State, between the ages of 13-18. The facility provides individualized rehabilitative and mental health counseling services. Specialized treatment and services include life skills, behavior modification, substance abuse education, and anger management groups. All youth are afforded access to medical services. Recreational, religious, and volunteer programs also are provided, as well as a variety of enrichment activities.

The Maryland State Department of Education provides accredited educational and vocational programming to each youth at the facility. Eligible youth may obtain their General Educational Development (GED) or concentrate on advanced studies.
